Postcards

Part 9
Section One

A. POSTCARD COMMENTERS

On October 14, 2021, NYSDOT received numerous postcards typically containing several comments based on 34 stickers supplied by the New York Civil Liberties Union (NYCLU). Some commenters wrote additional comments on their card(s). The Postcard Commenters table on the following pages lists these postcard submissions and indicates with an "x" the comment sticker(s) for each postcard. Additional written comments can be found in the final column on the right. The text of the 34 stickers is below; an abbreviated version of this text is on the top row of each page of the Postcard Commenters table. Copies of the original postcard submissions are included after the table.

Claudius Aurelien		x														x												x						During construction, residents are in danger of being exposed daily by toxins.
Aurelien			x					x						x																				Accountability for work assigned to community residents.
James Austin																																		Take it down. Educate the people in the community to create the work force. Pay top dollar to relocate to people.
Dale Avers													x					x												x				Provide for environmental reparations such as restoring the soil and air to pre-highway conditions.
Theresa Azemar									x		x
Elijah B.						x				x									x
David Babcock																																		Elevated highways through cities hurt cities immensely in many ways. The City of Syracuse is the hub of Central NY and needs to maximize opportunities by taking down the viaduct. The least cost alternative actually provides the most benefits as well! Suburbs will benefit the most from the alternative that benefits the City of Syracuse the most. I support the Community Grid and I live in the Syracuse suburbs.
Janet Bacon	x		x															x																Concern about noise and pollution entering the building.

George Balenton												x						x						x
Nicole Ballara												x											x											x	Noise problems
Dana Balter				x					x												x													Returning land back to Syracuse is a must so the it is the residents who get the full benefit of development.
Dana Balter																																		The land reclaimed when the viaduct comes down must be retuned to the city. It needs to be placed in community trust so the ownership/benefits accrue to the people. It must not be designated as tax exempt, regardles of what's built on it.

William K. Bighorse																																		Apply ENVISION Infrastructure rating system to all aspects of construction (3rd party verification)
William K. Bighorse																																		I want to see: (1) Some acreage dedicated for use by local Indigenous People. Waivers should be granted to demonstrate proof of concepts if new to Syracuse; (2) LEED Neighborhood Design Principles use. Neil Patterson from ESF should be used; Kevin Stack could also be used; (3) Indigenous architects and urban planners used in project design and development.
Tommi Billingsley		x				x													x															DOT must provide alternate transportation methods. For community land trust.

Carol Bissett-Hartley						x															x							x
Kevin Bjarnason																																		What will happen to Dr. King School? Will there be air filters or relocation? Will there be a plan to keep kids off construction sites? How are we ensuring the physical health of these neighborhoods and their residents during construction?
Keith Blackshear		x							x										x
Donald C. Blair				x					x										x															(1) The adverse effect of a viaduct/bridge on health impacts -- all adverse. (2) Economic - The Community Grid is clearly the best for the City of Syracuse; a majority think so.
Ellen Blalock																																		NYSDOT must create pathways for DBE certification for local residents and people of color. Syracuse is one of the poorest cities in the country. Blacks and Latinos need jobs. This is a great opportunity to raise many our of poverty. 30% people of color for all PLAs.
Bruce Block												x		x										x
Linda Bogart-Greenlar					x							x		x
Dana Bolter																																		The land reclaimed when the viaduct comes down must be returned to the city. It needs to be placed in community trust so the ownership/benefits acrue to the people. It must not be designated as tax exempt, regardless of what's built on it.
Margaret Bombard																																		The minority community in Syracuse deserves to be trained now to be able to work on this project. The air quality and lead exposure must be sstudied and managed to prevent further harm to people during this project. Exonomic development must be inclusive -- the land use should be determined by community advocates, not faceless investors.

Terrence Byrd El, Ed.D																																			It is imperative that there be a mandatory 60% hiring requirement for the local PLA agreement. Economically the local economy will benefit more from tax revenue from income. In terms of hiring requirements for DBE, this should at minimum require a 50% utilization rate. Increasing these requirements allows more dollars to remain local, therefore a boost to local economy. Lastly, we need DBE certification training to educate and inform the community about this process to increase and encourage entrepreneurship. To attain Equity, we must require Equality of Access.

Where are these residents going to go during the time of construction. Are they going to be placed in safe affordable housing? These children are more important than we know, they are our future. When planning the reconstruction of I-81, please take my following comments into consideration:

There are 3 HUGE quarrys on the Onondaga Nation that are now HUGE holes that were once hills. They were dug and created in the 1950's to help build roads and buildings in Syracuse. This has impacted our nation negatively, with loss of 3 hills and land our nation needs.
